

Newsletter

7th February 2022

Year 11

The Year 11 Football team have progressed to the semi-final of the Worcestershire County cup after beating Christopher Whitehead 2-0. The goals came from an impressive strike from Noah Read, followed by a good finish from Jack Turberville. The boys were faultless in their level of application, effort and determination. The semi-final game is against Woodrush High School and will take place on a date before the 25th March, at DSHS. Well done to:

Miles Buffery, Harry Caffery, Callum Cowan-Jones, Rico Holloway, George Duggan, Leo Goddard, Joe Fisher, Noah Read, Mateusz Nestorowski, Harry Pugh, Jack Turberville, Sam Woolley, Jack Millwood and Jonathan Rogers.

In History Porcha Bridgwater-Harding, Kelsey Rooke, Abi Davis, Heather Beard and Alex Haller have all impressed this week by the quality of their revision on Nazi policies towards Women and Children.

Year 11C and 11A have started well in preparation for their French Speaking exam in April. Over the past four weeks they have worked conscientiously and maturely to complete answers to the first four GCSE themes.

Year 10

Well done to Laurie Holder, Isobel Sprague, Jacob Bastock, Catherine Sandell, Joseph Summers, Briony-Mai Newman, Daniel Buckell, Summer Goodwin, Chloe Alden, Mark Hewlett, Zoe Kirkham and Maddison Jennings who have produced some very thoughtful and beneficial revision resources as preparation for their final assessment about Germany.

Ms Johns' Year 10 French group has been making very good progress on Reflexive verbs, responding cheerfully and positively to the challenge.

Sidra Watfa has undertaken the daunting task of introducing two members of staff to very basic Arabic. Mrs Waters and Miss Snell enjoyed their first lesson, but Sidra will not be asked to report on their progress.

Year 9

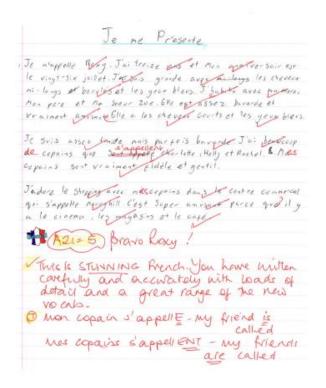

In History Matthew Oliver, William Ross, Summer Griffin, Megan Holder, Cameron Moore, Holly Dufty, Katie Maxted and Bee Barber reached some measured judgements in enquiring into how this country won The Battle of Britain.

Jess Bodilly is commended for her work in English.

Students in 9B A/9A A/9C S have recently written some fine descriptions of their families and their friends in French.

suis a taile magazze et, poince

mes la gymnatique et la sucres aliments pas lumertes mous mass je sus pas

y mais j'affeste poisson et lagures je toma poissons et lagures per ja nome ros terros mojer je n'aime ros to permes de terro rugby at complique, je n'ocime

from 14th mosts

Year 8

Ted Kirton, George Clarke, Grace Dean, Sophie Holland, Ciaran Dearn, Hannah Marshall, Nathan Welch, Addison Rowe, Max Kirkham and Isabelle Cooper's work on interpretations of Charles I was outstanding. Their were judgements thoughtful and well-reasoned.

Well done to students in 8LD and 8RR who are working really hard in their German lessons - we have some promising future linguists in these classes. A special mention to Penelope Crabbe, Armands Zvaigzne, Drew Hankins and Grace Dean for their intelligent questions and inquisitiveness regarding the German language.

Well done to Samuel Barnett, Rosie Bell, Phoebe Brindley-Jones, Claire Brownlee, Oliver Checketts, Hayden George, Simaran Kaur and Michael Tandy in 8RC for their continued hard work and involvement in German.

Members of 8LC have made really good progress in German, learning their numbers, mastering telling the time and giving their opinions about school subjects using some complex opinion phrases, adjectives and qualifiers. Brandon Gadsby-Cooper, Riley Dukes, Lucas Brett and Louie Harris have made excellent contributions to lessons.

In Maths 8RA+ did very well in their work on constructions using compasses.

Joe Fisher, Y11, has continued to achieve marks in English.

9RA have made a very pleasing start to their study of Romeo and Juliet. Every member participated enthusiastically in reading and acting out Act 1, scene 1, gaining a good understanding of the key events. Well done in particular to Vinnie Paxton, Harrison Hindmarch, Jem Fowler, Lee Coleman, Zuzanna Kosta and Millie Beattie.

8LR English enjoyed watching the Literacy Trust webinar with Julian Sedgwick and Chie Kutsuwada. They all had a go at drawing their own manga fox.

